"Hi, is this [agent]? It's just Julien with French Equity Partners. I'm calling about [address]. Is it still available?"

The questions

#	Ask	You learn
1	"How long has it been on, and have there been any price changes or offers?"	Days on market · cuts · competition
2	"Why do you think it hasn't sold yet?"	Price, condition or seller problem
3	"What's the seller's situation? Why are they selling?"	Motivation (the key answer)
4	"What's the condition like, and is it occupied?" Check against your buy box: CBS 3/2, flood zone X, city sewer, no HOA, roof age, 4-point items.	Fits buy box or not
5	"What would the seller need to see to get this done? Price, speed, as-is?"	Their ideal deal
6	"If I came in with a cash offer, as-is, quick close, would they look at it? What's the best way to send it?"	Permission to offer

Bonus: "Do you have any other listings, or off-market ones, with sellers in a similar spot?" This is how you find hot agents.

Hot agent signs

• Says "the seller just needs it gone" or names a life event (divorce, probate, relocation, behind on payments) • Has several stale listings • Asks you for your criteria. Tag them in your CRM and call them back every month.

3 rules

1. Short, friendly, professional. Agents are busy. 2. No pressure, no consequence questions. Agents spot it instantly. 3. Never guess a number on the call: "Let me run the numbers and send it over today."

Straight after: log it in the FEP CRM: motivation, condition, agent rating, next step and the date to follow up.
